Report of the Committee

THE Committee have the honour to present to the Governors their Report for the past year.

It is with regret that in the interests of economy the Committee have, once again, to confine their Report within the narrowest reasonable limits, for it is difficult in such a small space to give any adequate account of the work done at St. Luke's during the past twelve months.

Notwithstanding this restriction, the Committee first wish to express their gratitude—warm, wholehearted and unstinted—to all those who during the past year have given such generous recognition to the claims of the Charity. The encouragement thereby afforded is keenly appreciated by those responsible for its administration.

It is with regret that the Committee have to record the loss through death of one of its Vice-Presidents, Admiral Sir Reginald Hall, and the resignation of one of its members, Mrs. R. L. Harrison, who for twenty-two years had been one of its most active members.

They are pleased to announce that General Sir Aylmer Haldane, G.C.M.G., Miss Margaret McEwen and Mr. H. L. Smedley have joined the Committee, also that they have been fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. Cecil Joll, M.D., M.S., F.R.C.S., to fill the vacant office of Honorary Consulting Surgeon.

The Committee take this opportunity to extend a hearty welcome to their new Colleagues.

On March 7th, through the courtesy of the British Broadcasting Corporation, the Hospital was allowed to broadcast an appeal for funds. The Committee were fortunate enough to obtain the services of the Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of Bristol, who made a most sympathetic and truly touching appeal, expressing so concisely and yet so admirably the pathetic story of the Hospital, and touching the hearts of so many of his listeners.

As a result of this appeal the munificent sum of £3,550 was received.

The Committee desire to take this opportunity of renewing their expression of sincere gratitude to the Bishop of Bristol, and to the British Broadcasting Corporation, for the valuable services rendered by them to the Charity.

Their warm thanks is due also to the very many donors who so generously responded to the appeal.

The following statistics show that once again the beds of the Hospital have been filled to capacity. There is always a waiting list.

On January 1st there were in the Hospital 27 patients. During the year 157 were admitted, making a total of 184 in all. Of these patients 130 died and 24 were discharged. The average daily number of beds open during the year was 32. The average number occupied daily was 31.

The following is an abstract of cases.

During the year St. Luke's, in common with other Hospitals, has found it necessary to adopt the findings of the Rushcliffe Report on the salaries and emoluments to be paid to Nurses in Hospitals. While the Committee are glad that the Nursing Profession should receive this long-delayed recognition of what is due for services rendered, it has to be remembered that they are faced with the task of finding the funds necessary to meet the increased expenditure, and this with an almost certain prospect of a decrease in Income.

Once again the Subscribers and Donors are asked to examine in detail the Income & Expenditure Account and Balance Sheet.

The total Income amounted to £9,346, which it has to be remembered includes the large and incidental figure of £3,550, the result of the Wireless Appeal. The total Expenditure was £6,399. The accounts therefore show an excess of Income over Expenditure of £2,947, but without the appeal referred to above there would have been a deficit of £603.

During the year there has been a gratifying increase in the number of Deeds of Covenant executed by subscribers in favour of the Hospital. It would be most helpful if this number could be increased during the present year. Details of the scheme will be found on the following page.

There remains but one more point to which the Committee would earnestly beg to draw attention, i.e., the need of sustained and increased support from all friends of the Charity.

These are difficult times for all Hospitals supported by Voluntary Contributions, and in particular for the smaller Hospitals.

That the Charity is sorely needed and deeply appreciated is beyond question. Perhaps only those who spend their lives working in the Hospital can realise what it means to those who come there to die. The work is fraught with an infinite pathos which must touch the hearts of all those who come into contact with it.

The Committee feel therefore that it is unnecessary to expend further space in pleading for the support essential to the efficiency of the Hospital; that they can look forward with confidence to the continuance of the splendid help which they have received in the past, and that the work of tending the dying, so pathetic in its appeal, will not be forgotten.

On behalf of the Committee,

WINIFRED CUMBER,

Secretary.

How to Increase the Income

The following expedient, whereby the normal amount of the subscription of any one subscriber can be increased in the hands of the Charity without any further expenditure on the part of the subscriber, is rendered possible by the provisions of the Finance Acts.

The scheme, shortly stated, is as follows :—

The subscriber enters into a short deed of covenant with the Charity (e.g., this Hospital) to pay for a period of seven years or for the life of the subscriber (whichever period be the shorter) such a sum as will, after deduction therefrom of Income Tax at the rate for the time being current, leave the amount of the normal subscription. The subscriber, when the time comes for payment, deducts Income Tax at the current rate, as he is bound to do, from the gross amount which he has covenanted to pay, and will pay to the Hospital the net amount only, which will be the amount of his normal subscription as before.

The Hospital being a Charity, and as such free from liability to Income Tax, can then claim from the Inland Revenue Authorities the amount of the Income Tax deducted by the subscriber.

For example : a subscriber of a normal subscription of One Guinea will covenant to pay (with Income Tax at 10s.) £2 2s. When paying his subscription to the Hospital he will deduct the amount of the Income Tax, i.e., £1 1s., and will pay to the Hospital, as he paid before, One Guinea only. The Hospital will then recover from the Inland Revenue Authorities the amount of Income Tax deducted, i.e., £1 1s.; and so, instead of receiving, as formerly, One Guinea only, will eventually receive £2 2s.

This arrangement, which involves the subscriber in no additional expense, confers this advantage upon him : it enables him, if he be liable to Sur-tax, to deduct from the total amount of his income for the purpose of Sur-tax the gross amount of the subscription which he has covenanted to pay.

A form of the necessary deed is enclosed with this Report. The Committee would be grateful if subscribers would complete it and return it to the Secretary.

J. A. B.

Objects of the Charity

(ABRIDGED)

(1) It is a Hospital for the Dying.—Not necessarily for those suffering from any particular disease, but for all those who are in an advanced state of any mortal illness. It is not for chronic cases, for “the incurable,” or for “the bed-ridden.” The patient must be “dying.” We consider that anyone comes within that definition who has not, as far as it can be estimated by a medical man, more than a few months to live. The average duration of the stay of our patients is a little over two months.

(2) It has a religious basis, but is altogether undenominational.—Although a living and practical Christianity is and must be the basis upon which the Charity is founded, this finds the most undenominational expression that is possible. We have our own Honorary Chaplains and Clerical Visitors—Anglican, Nonconformist, Roman Catholic and Jewish—each of whom takes charge of those patients who profess the faith he represents.

(3) It is not only a Hospital, but also a Home.—We have always kept this aspect of our work steadily in mind, and, while insisting upon the efficiency of a Hospital, have maintained, as far as possible, the appearance and atmosphere, and the elastic administration, of a Nursing Home.

(4) It is intended for (among others) particularly, to quote the words of the Founder, “the large class, among the poor, of whom the Country has reason to be proud—industrious, honourable, thrifty, respectful of others and of themselves.” Also, again to quote the same authority, for “the well-born or the well-educated, the refined and gentle, who have seen better days, and who, perhaps from no fault of their own, at any rate from no moral fault, have ‘come down in the world.’”

(5) It is free, but only to those whose circumstances require that it should be free. It is our custom, in accordance with the prevailing and generally approved practice of the day, to call for such a periodical or other payment towards the expenses of the Hospital as the means of the patient or of the patient’s relatives or friends may fairly warrant. The amount of the requisite payment is not fixed until after careful and sympathetic enquiry into all the circumstances of the patient.

Sunday Dinner Society

NEW Members are now urgently required for the Sunday Dinner Society, which exists for the purpose of occasionally procuring for the patients more delicate fare than the Committee would otherwise feel justified in providing.

Each member arranges with the Secretary to send a certain amount of poultry or game for the patients' dinner on one (or more) particular Sunday in the year, and the Secretary sends a notice to such member about ten days before the contribution is due. If more convenient, money may be sent, which the Matron will spend on behalf of the donor.

Our warmest thanks are due to those members who have so generously helped us during many years. Want of space unfortunately compels us this year to withhold their names.

Old Linen, Etc.

Now more than ever clean old linen, cotton and flannel of every description, household or personal, is urgently needed for dressings for our bad cases, and we shall be grateful for anything sent.

We shall be glad also of gifts of flowers, plants and vegetables.

Matron's Needlework Guild

It is earnestly hoped that National claims may not entirely overshadow the work of this invaluable little Society, and that its useful contributions, upon which the Matron hopefully relies, may still be allowed to continue.

Miscellaneous Gifts

The Committee gratefully acknowledge gifts of old linen, flowers, plants, fruit, game, poultry, eggs, books, magazines, sickroom requisites, special teas for patients, Christmas gifts, etc., received during the year from their many friends. These gifts have proved invaluable.

Naming of Beds

A bed may be named by a Benefactor—

For one year, on payment of £55

For the Life of the Benefactor, on payment of £500

In perpetuity, on payment of £1,000

Form of Bequest

I give to St. Luke's Hospital for Advanced Cases (of Hereford Road, Bayswater, London, W.) for the general purposes of such Hospital the sum of free from all death duties. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer or Secretary or any other Officer of the said Hospital shall be a complete discharge to my Executors for this Legacy

AUDITORS' CERTIFICATE

We hereby certify that we have compared the above Balance Sheet with the Books of the Hospital, and find same to be correct. To the best of our knowledge and belief the Regulations of the Revised Uniform System as modified by the instructions of King Edward's Hospital Fund relating to the treatment of Free Legacies, dated December, 1940, have been followed. We have verified the Investments and Cash at Bank.

By-Laws

I.—Application for the admission of a patient must be made upon the printed Forms provided for the purpose, which may be obtained from the Matron or the Secretary.

II.—The decision as to the eligibility of any patient for admission rests entirely with the Medical Superintendent.

III.—Patients selected from among the London poor will have preference in admission.

IV.—Patients of all religious denominations, and of none, are equally eligible.

V.—As far as possible, eligible cases will be admitted in the order of application, but the power of granting priority to especially suitable or deserving cases is reserved to the Medical Superintendent.

VI.—Priority of admission will be granted ordinarily to adults over young persons under sixteen years of age.

VII.—Payment is not demanded from any patient; but in cases, on other grounds eligible, where the patient or friends are able to make any contribution to the funds of the Hospital, it is expected that they will do so. Priority of admission will not, however, necessarily be granted on account of this being done.

VIII.—Every inmate of the Hospital is under the immediate control of the Matron, who will make such nursing and domestic regulations as may from time to time be necessary.

IX.—The friends of patients are admitted on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays between the hours of 3 and 4 p.m., and the nearest relatives of any patient will be summoned at all other times when such patient is in serious danger.

X.—Visitors may view the Hospital every afternoon, except Saturday and Sunday, from 3 to 5. Ministers of Religion visiting any patient are free of entrance to the Hospital at any time.

XI.—The relatives or friends of any patient admitted to the Hospital must pay a deposit of ten shillings to cover any small expenditure that may arise in connection with the discharge or the decease of such patient. In the case of discharge, this deposit (less any amount expended) will be returned; in the case of death, the whole amount will be applied towards the cost of removal.

XII.—In the case of discharge, the relatives or friends of any patient who have signed the undertaking (Form 3) must, on receipt of notice to that effect, within twenty-four hours remove such patient. In the case of death, the body will, after notice thereof to such signatories as aforesaid, be removed by the authorities of the Hospital with all care and reverence to the authorised mortuary. The signatories must make their own arrangements with the proprietor of the mortuary for the removal thence, or burial, of the body.

XIII.—The removal of patients to the Hospital must be undertaken by the relatives or friends of the patient at their own expense.

XIV.—The Management of St. Luke's Hospital for Advanced Cases undertakes no expenditure for patients, except within its own walls.
